

Stick 'em up. Political Posters and Stickers

Labor's campaign:

"Barak is not trendy or sympathetic. He is a leader"

Kadima's negative campaign against Netanyahu:

"Bibi? I don't believe him"

Likud's anti-Livni slogan reads: "It's out of her league"

Shas has decided to adopt Obama's slogan: "Yes we can!"

Israel Beitenu's campaign focuses on its leader:
"Lieberman, I believe him!"

Meretz - The New Movement's banner campaign:
First frame makes you believe it is an ad for the Likud and Netanyahu, with the slogan "Together, we'll succeed"; the second frame erases the first with the text "We deserve something better".

Israeli-Arab party Hadash (new in Hebrew) says
a "new world is possible"

Kadima says "Tzipi Livni is a different type of leader"

The Jewish Home / New National Religious Party:
Always on the front lines

Likud's slogan: Binyamin Netanyahu. Because a state needs to be run

Meretz does not compromise with "Jumes"
(nickname of its chairman Haim Oron).

Yisrael Beiteinu with a message
to Israeli-Arabs:
No citizenship without loyalty

National Union has a "no fear" approach

The campaign of Yisrael Hazaka (a strong Israel)
focuses on fighting organized crime: After we hammered Hamas, it's now the crime families' turn